

Innovative airband that's easier to install and see in more places

Large, bright LCD display

A large, bright LCD display shows VHF/UHF frequencies, squawk code, and other flight information. The display is easy to read and provides a clear view of the aircraft's status. The display is also easy to install and see in more places.

Easy channel selection

The JLCoast 2000 features a large, bright LCD display that shows the current channel and frequency. The display is easy to read and provides a clear view of the aircraft's status. The display is also easy to install and see in more places.

